We want to make sure that children understand how and why we need their information and that they know what their rights are. This privacy notice is part of that commitment. It tells you what information we collect, how we use it and how you can access it.

What information do we collect?

We may ask for or hold information about you which will be used to help us treat you when you are in hospital. We might keep:

- Basic details such as name, address, date of birth, and your family members

- Details about any appointments you've had
- Details and records about your treatment and care
- Results of any tests you've had
- Information from people who care for you and know you well, such as health professionals and relatives.

What do we use your information for?

It is important for us to have a complete picture, as this information helps staff who you might meet in hospital to look after you.

It can help us to understand more about certain diseases and what causes them so we can develop new treatments. This makes NHS care better for everyone.
